Mustangs Make History with State Tournament Run

For the first time in four decades, the boys basketball team brought the excitement of state basketball competition back to Flinthills.

The Mustangs faced off against St. John's/Tipton Catholic in the Class 1A Division I State Quarterfinal on March 10, marking Flinthills' first appearance at state since 1986. Flinthills earned their spot at state by defeating top-ranked Little River in the substate championship.

Although their tournament run ended with a loss, the achievement itself was a milestone worth celebrating.

The team finished the season with an impressive 17–9 record, a reflection of their dedication, resilience, and hard work. Head coach Michael Hunter praised his players for their commitment and historic accomplishment.

"These kids worked hard every single day," Hunter said. "They did something the school hasn't done in a long time, and I'm proud of them." Hunter also emphasized the role of the community in making the season unforgettable. "I'm proud of the way our kids competed and proud of the support our community gave us all season," he added.

From the Desk of Superintendent Michael Hunter

In my nearly 30 years in education, including 20 years in school leadership, I have seen the term leadership defined in countless ways. For some, leadership is tied to a position or title. For others, it is viewed as a singular accomplishment or milestone. While individuals and groups may certainly hold leadership roles, that is not how I define true leadership.

In Good to Great, author Jim Collins introduces the concept of what he calls “Level 5 Leaders.” He describes these individuals as leaders who channel their ego away from themselves and toward a greater purpose—building something meaningful and lasting. One of the most powerful lines in the book states:

“Level 5 leaders are a paradoxical blend of personal humility and professional will.”

This idea captures what I believe to be the essence of effective leadership. The most impactful leaders are not driven by recognition, status, or charisma. Instead, they lead with humility, discipline, and an unwavering commitment to serving others and achieving long-term success.

Recently, the Flinthills community lost such a leader.

By the world’s traditional standards, he may not have been labeled a leader. He did not run a Fortune 500 company or serve as a school administrator. Yet, in my eyes—and in the eyes of so many students, staff, and families—he was one of the most impactful leaders our district has known.

Stan Cox embodied what it truly means to be a servant leader. Whether it was his attention to detail in his custodial work or the genuine care and compassion he showed to every person he encountered, Mr. Cox made a lasting difference in our schools. He understood that leadership is not about recognition, but about responsibility—showing up each day with purpose, pride, and a commitment to others.

His recent passing is a profound loss for our district and community. He will be deeply missed, but his example will continue to guide us. In many ways, his life reminds us that leadership is not defined by title, but by impact.

As we reflect on his legacy, may we all strive to lead a little more like Stan Cox—with humility, dedication, and a servant’s heart.

Congratulations to our students of the month: 8th grader Noah Riemann for Middle School and Senior Brylee Heimgartner for High School. Both of these students represented us well in winter sports and in our play, The Jungle Book. Noah showed off his acting chops in the role of the Jackal while Brylee entertained us as Baloo. Brylee also participates on our Forensics team, which took 1st place out of 14 teams at Clearwater on the 25th and will be heading to State.

Our track teams have started practicing, and baseball and softball played their first games. Seniors Alex Scribner and Karynn Gleason were named part of the SEK "Bomb Squad" by SEK Sports for their home runs in their first game against Sedan. The article said Alex exemplified "senior leadership and pure power." I could not agree more whether it's on the field, in the classroom, or as stage manager. We're fortunate to have students like these as leaders in our school.

As we begin April, students are buckling down to finish senior interviews, begin final projects, and complete state testing. At the same time, they're practicing and competing at the highest levels whether singing, playing instruments, hitting balls, or running races. Art room and shop projects are also coming to life with creativity. If you see one of our students in the hallways, on the fields, or out in the community, please give them a high five or a word of encouragement to stay focused on the hard work they're doing every day. Go Mustangs!

-Dr. Amanda Evans, MS/HS Principal

Lady Mustang Basketball

2025-26 Season Recap

It was a great season for the Lady Mustangs. Even though they only had 8 girls on the basketball team, the Mustangs had a terrific season full of excitement and achievement. The Lady Mustangs got off to a terrific start to the season by taking 2nd place in the Fairfield Classic Tournament. As the season progressed, they continued to play hard and win games despite being quite small in both stature and numbers.

Going into the SCBL Tournament at the end of January, the Lady Mustangs had several injured players. The team faced those challenges head-on and was able to advance to the Championship game, where they lost to an Argonia team that qualified for the State Tournament. After finishing the regular season, the Lady Mustangs won their 1st-round playoff game. They were defeated by eventual State Champion Little River in the next round of Sub-State. Little River defeated the Lady Mustangs by a smaller margin than their opponent in the State Championship game.

Several Mustangs received post-season recognition:

Brylee Heimgartner- Honorable Mention SCBL

Rylee Randall- Honorable Mention SCBL

Alex Scribner- 1st Team SCBL, Honorable Mention All-State Team

Team Members:

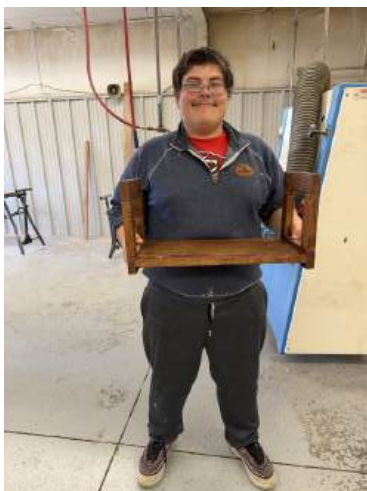

9th Grade- Stephanie Greene, Emily Thorne, Ellie Kriedler, Rylee Randall

11th Grade- Nilari Cabugo

12th Grade- Alex Scribner, Brylee Heimgartner, Karynn Gleason

Two Dances, One Big Night

On Saturday the 28th of March, the Flinthills Student council hosted two dances on the same day. First we brought back the Father/Daughter dance and had close to 40 dads and almost 50 daughters attend. This was a huge success. The dance went from 5 till 7 and after they cleared out our student council kids working the event cleaned up and set up for the Middle school dance that started at 7:30 and went till 9:30. Students from grades 6 through 8 were well represented with over 80% of the students attending. Dancing, pizza and pop—they had a Blast. I would like to give the kids in our student council that helped run this event— planned, decorated, cleaned, DJ and serving students. Great job kids!

Read Across America

Read Across America Week, held March 2–6, was a celebration of reading and school spirit. Students joined in the fun with themed dress-up days, including Hats & Crazy Socks Day, Dress Wacky Day, Pajama Day, and Animal Day.

Intermediate students added some excitement by hosting the “Who Will Kiss the Goat?” contest to raise money for the library (see page 20 for results). To keep the reading momentum going, intermediate students also took on a Reading Choice Board challenge. Those who completed at least 8 of the 12 activities earned a well-deserved reward, celebrating on Thursday with board games and snacks.

Read Across America Fundraiser

The Read Across America Week Library Fundraiser raised $419 for the school library, and things got a little... goat-crazy in the process. Students (and a few helpful adults) voted with their dollars by filling jars to decide which teacher would earn the honor of kissing a goat.

After a week of intense jar-filling competition, Mrs. Cogdell and Mrs. Thomas finished in a tie, meaning they both proudly claimed the title of "The Goat Kisser."

A big thank you to everyone who donated, to the teachers and paras who were brave enough to participate, and of course to Dory the Goat, who handled her moment in the spotlight like a true professional. The library gained some funds, and the students gained a memory they probably won't forget anytime soon!

THANK YOU!

A vibrant illustration featuring two children, a boy and a girl, jumping joyfully against a light blue background with stylized clouds. The boy, on the left, is wearing a purple long-sleeved shirt under blue overalls and is holding an open book high in his right hand. The girl, on the right, is wearing a purple dress and is also holding an open book high in her right hand. Both children have their arms outstretched and are smiling broadly. In the center, between the two children, are three more books floating in the air. The overall scene conveys a sense of excitement and happiness related to reading and books.

Thank you to everyone who shopped successful week and are looking forward to some new books in the libraries!

Softball

Seniors Alex Scribner and Karynn Gleason came out swinging to kick off the softball season in powerful fashion. In the game against Sedan on March 26, Alex blasted two home runs while Karynn added another.

Nurse's Health Zone

By: Rhonda Craven RN

This school year is winding down and it has been a busy one. As most of you have probably heard, I am resigning my position as the school nurse. It has been a great pleasure working with the students and making new friends. Not sure what I am going to do with my time, but I'm sure something will come up. Retirement isn't always what it is cut out to be.

When a script is filled at a pharmacy from the doctor, and the parent or guardian requests it to be given by the school, it will only be given as prescribed on the bottle or with a doctors note, if there can be changes made.

Stay healthy and be happy,
Rhonda Craven RN

Cassoday Boosters

The Cassoday Boosters 4-H Club held its monthly meeting on March 16.

During the business portion of the meeting, members discussed upcoming community service projects. Everyone is encouraged to bring new ideas to share at the next meeting. Members were also reminded to be aware of important upcoming deadlines, including small animal tagging on April 20 and the project enrollment deadline of May 1 to be eligible to show at the Butler County Fair.

The program for the evening was presented by Clark Rickard, who shared information about cows. Following the presentation, Ella Tetrick added some fun to the evening by leading the group in a lively game of musical chairs.

Looking ahead, the Cassoday Boosters will join the El Dorado Trailblazers for an exchange meeting on April 13 at the community building in El Dorado. Project meetings will begin at 6:30 p.m., followed by the business meeting at 7:30 p.m.

Anyone interested in learning more about Butler County 4-H is encouraged to contact Tresa Garcia for additional information.

We had our monthly meeting at the high school, where our junior 4-Hers led the meeting with support from our older members. They did a great job demonstrating leadership, teamwork, and responsibility. Members participated in activities, shared updates on projects, and practiced important life skills. We are proud of the growth and confidence our students continue to show each month!

If interested in joining a group come to a meeting and see what you think. There are many things you can do in 4-H, not just animals.
